AN EXPLANATION

In view of a lessened volume of business, it is again necessary to realize, even at a sacrifice, on a part of our stocks of Paintings in London, Toronto and New York.

Exhibitions have been held annually by the Carrall Galleries in Canada and the United States, since 1898, and as these Exhibitions have to be changed every year, there is consequently a large surplus. We consider it advisable, therefore, to dispose of this surplus at prices which must prove attractive, quite regardless of cost.

We feel that our patrons may justifiably ask themselves why this Sale should be held, and consider they are entitled to a frank explanation.
